Subject: Transparent popup (or top window)

Hi,

there is still no support for a (portable) transparent top window ?
I'm coding a splash screen, which scales an image from a very small size up to the final one.
Now I'm doing it with a popup which changes size and gets repainted, but it flickers horribly.
Leaving the size and repainting only the content is ok, but then I've the white popup background displayed.

Ciao

Max

No support yet (I am afraid this might be too platform dependent). You will need to use platform specific code. But then, if you do, maybe we shall be able to use that in CtrlCore...
