Subject: About LabelBox and child widgets

I'm trying to put some widgets inside a LabelBox using the layout designer.

But when I resize the windows, the widgets keep the original positions, even when the LabelBox changes its position.

I'm expecting that LabelBox would act as a "layout container" and the LabelBox and its contents would chonge position on the windows as a whole thing, but it's not what is happening.

Am I missing something? Or there are alternatives ther than LabelBox to do what I need?
