How upp displays in the tab bar does not give an indication of what is under that tab

Usually it has the first few words of the post or subject like:
problems with MT, setting up ---. email, etc..

Thanks sergeynikitin, that would be a better location for the post.

Maybe an administrator can move it.

Hello,

I agree with you - since we have favicon we don't need "Ultimate++" on the beginning of page title. I think we should use the same pattern as we use on regular sites: "$(Title) :: Ultimate++ forums".

Forum is tricky, so changes cannot be applied via svn. BTW, we should allow google search on it and integrate facebook counter (like on regular U++ pages).

Sincerely,
Klugier
