Luigi, if you have noticed, ChartCtrl is a section on our forums where nobody wants to post...

Just now I noted it

If you decide to use agg, you can expect some advice from me...

(At the moment I'm trying to solve that agg optimized printing)

Aris

I've decided to use AGG. The image transformation I've seen in action and the line accuracy were enough for me. For my purpose it is very important what can I see on the screen.

I'll just start to study your experiment
