I will try to do some of this. Right after I write something about package organization ... well, I hope that will be in a few days.

Maybe you could post the latest version here (as attachment) of anything that you want to have the language checked (or for general review), or if you prefer not then let me know where to find it.

Regarding examples - is there anything that shows how to use mouse move events - e.g. mouse move over an image?
