xine as a "multimedia" back end would be good.

As far as I know xine is unix, only.

It looks then that xine is "no go" for cross-platform toolkits and

- 1. The only alternative as backend is GStreamer... (disadvantage licence and quality)
- 2. the second alternative would be to go below... (disadvantage time and work)
- 3. something else NMM...
