I think it's not as stable as in windows....

I know, I know.... the fact is I'm getting a little tired about programs 'not being as stable as in windows' :/ .

I use Blender too and in Windows is a pleasure to use, on Linux, well, some things like Game Engine are forbidden, you use them, Blender inexorably crashes....

Since IMO Ultimate++ is an outstanding product in the Linux world, it's a pity Linux releases are left behind.
