I have to delete all sql-connections (in this sample sqlVer and sqlRaum), and then does the "create table" command work.

Thanks, looks like a good Sqlite tip

Mirek

Practice when Data Definition Language statements destroy all Data Manipulation Language statements is quite common. This situation should be handled by database API wrappers. Same as committing of all open transactions by DDL.

BTW. If recall correctly, there was an improvment to sqlite's API in order to fix similar situations.
