Some more info.... The blue transparent background is from compiz; it appears an every app resizing the window.
On my app, it freezes if I click on the resize corner NOT EXACTLY on bottom right corner.
I noticed that with normal linux apps (nautilus, for example) the resize corner is 'frame wide', so it extends from the bottom right corner by the frame thickness.
On my upp app, it seems to extend too, so the cursor changes to resize cursor, but if I don't click exactly on bottom-right corner it doesn't resize. Without compiz, it does no harm, I must just click more precisely; with compiz enabled the 'blue rectangle problem' appears.

Ciao
