I really don't get how to use schemas, please excuse me, I've been looking at the code for a while, but I'm not a C++ expert and since it's not documented or commented, it's been really hard for me. So I'm asking for help here.

My problem is that I don't get how to make schemas work, I think I get the idea, created a .sch include it, called it, and I think everything is fine, I even get the idea for queries, but can't create a table.

Can someone please give me a hint I'll appreciate it.
Thanks in advance.
