Subject: System() call

I've seen in Valgrind support such a call :

```
stringstream ss;
```

```
CreateHostRunDir()->Execute("valgrind --help", ss);
```

```
String txt = ss;
```

to execute a system command gathering output inside a stream.

That one is really useful, but requires Ide package... there's nothing equivalent in Core or somewhere else ?

Or must I resort to standard system() call, after reopening output streams ?

Ciao

Max
