Subject: Pop-up help for Toolbar icons located in wrong display on multidisplay setup

I'm running the word UWord example in Windows XP, built with the mingw that came with upp-mingw-2008.1beta2.exe.

I'm running in a two display setup, with one display positioned vertically above the other.

I've positioned the UWord app into the top display. When I place a cursor over the toolbar open file icon, the pop-up help text "Open.. (CTRL+O)" appears in the lower display instead of close to the mouse in the upper display, where I'd expect it.

TheIDE has the same problem.
