Changed to trying to create a database using the addressbook xml2 app enclosed in the distribution.

Perfectd the layout, just need now to open a sql database and search through it in a similar fashion to the address book.

50,000+ entries in or current databse so too much time to convert to exact xml format addressbook uses unless some-one can help.

Prefer the sqlite option as it may be that several databases could then be used.

Any ideas?
