Subject: Re: Ultimate++ on Solaris 10 ia86
Posted by dmcgeoch on Wed, 30 Jul 2008 19:26:39 GMT

Latest news...

The gnu linker is loaded, however gcc by default was using the Sun linker which does not accept most of the options in the Makefile. I was able to force the use of the Gnu Linker, however I am now having an issue locating the nanosleep function during the link.

Dave