Yup it works and is the only way I can think of to mix open source and proprietary modules whilst maintaining document compatibility between open source and proprietary executables.

I probably wont patent it though so feel free to use it

For some reason I had to use

if(s.IsStoring() && dynamic_cast<FileStream *>(&s)!=NULL)

but it all works fine now. I know it doesn't really matter whether am storing or not but I just wanted to add the check for the sake of efficiency.

Thanks,

Nick
