Just took a look at the Common Public License (CPL) and I like it too.

<http://opensource.org/licenses/cpl1.0.php>

I also like the Common Development and Distribution License (CDDL)

<http://opensource.org/licenses/cddl1.php>

I like them because they cover things like patenting, where it disallows patenting original works.

From CDDL:

Quote:

2.1. The Initial Developer Grant.

(d) Notwithstanding Section 2.1(b)

above, no patent license is granted: (1) for code that You delete from the Original Software, or

(2) for infringements caused by: (i) the modification of the Original Software, or (ii) the combination of the Original Software with other software or devices.

3.1. Availability of Source Code.

Any Covered Software that You distribute or otherwise make available in Executable form must also be made available in Source Code form and that Source Code form must be distributed only under the terms of this License.

You must include a copy of this License with every copy of the Source Code form of the Covered Software You distribute or otherwise make available. You must inform recipients of any such Covered Software in Executable form as to how they can obtain such Covered Software in Source

Code form in a reasonable manner on or through a medium customarily used for software exchange.

3.5. Distribution of Executable Versions.

You may distribute the Executable form of the Covered Software under the terms of this License or under the terms of a license of Your choice, which may contain terms different from this License, provided that You are in compliance with the terms of this License and that the license for the Executable form does not attempt to limit or alter the recipients rights in the Source Code form from the rights set forth in this License. If You distribute the Covered Software in Executable form under a different license, You must make it absolutely clear that any terms which differ from this License are offered by

You alone, not by the Initial Developer or Contributor.
You hereby agree to indemnify the Initial Developer and every Contributor for any liability incurred by the Initial Developer or such Contributor as a result of any such terms You offer.
