Subject: TheIDE stuck in eternal build / run / build / run / etc cycle

Sometimes when I do F5 or Debug > Run TheIDE will get stuck in a loop where it will compile the application, run it, and as soon as I stop debugging / close the application, it immediately recompiles and runs the program again. I have had to kill TheIDE in order to get out of this loop.

Sometimes it also happens even if the build failed - it will try to build, show the error message, and immediately attempt to build again, in a loop forever... again, I have to kill TheIDE to make it stop.

Anyone else gotten this? I'm on Ubuntu 8.04.
