EDIT: how to update mainstream documentation svn from inside theide ?

I believe you refer to your T++ svn suggestion. In ToDo, but not implemented yet...

Yes, I was thinking about that one. I guess it'll be somehow complicated by the directory structure of upp, mixing sources with docs.

It is not complicated (if we are speaking about write rights).

That part is already managed (server script automatically gives rights to all *.tpp folders to "documentation" group).
