i just want to say that this section of forum is very very needed !!! so plesase put here moooore examples like that - it's realy very useful and this:

I want to find and show for other users the hidden parts of the iceberg to compensate the lack of documantation and features.

is realy good and very true idea (i thing about the underwater part of iceberg) contiue it !!!

The "result" of this discussion is now reference/StatusBar.

Really, to learn U++, go through reference examples. That is the simplest way....
