Subject: Re: A problem with UPP application scale . . .
Posted by Mindtraveller on Thu, 19 Feb 2009 20:41:46 GMT

What header file are you talking about? What do you have inside this file? Please post little spicific details about where and what do you have exactly.
More correct and OOP-style task decomposition will perhaps decrease the number of dependencies. Pure abstract classes will help but it is a sort of thing you should do when decomposition is finally polished and you need to avoid some more dependencies.