Subject: Re: Working on new release system...
Posted by mirek on Wed, 18 Mar 2009 10:36:22 GMT

Nightly builds should now be working.

The key point to define builds is in svn:

uppbox/Scripts/all and this script calls several subscripts to perform builds. As there is standard build environment and wine, script can compile U++ projects and use them as tools...

The output of the process is implemented as:

- build script or code stores files that is to be uploaded to "~/upload" directory

- then performs ~/bin/upload

Mirek