Posted by sergeynikitin on Mon, 23 Mar 2009 00:05:12 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

People! do not need more to develop a magnetic subject.

A magnet does not pass any commonality with U++ or with C++.

And the symbol ++ is not obvious.

Another point. Thick enough to cross - is associated with the Swiss cross and not with the plus sign.
Lines of crosses to be thinner.

I think 2 plus sign should be close (together) - this is what made sense in the designation of the language C++.