Maybe even place the page of video-manual/video-presentations. It would be very cool! I found a nice tool - Wink, which allows you to make a video-guide to html / flash (Example like that http://www.svsoft.ru/demo.html).

We can upload into the site source of video clips that users of its language would have changed the commentary.

And maybe make the multi-language sections on the site (not on forum)? I am ready to support the Russian version of the narrative portion of the site.
