1. SqlArray is not support join

You can always connect tables using 'where', or just use 'join' + ArrayCtrl and fill it "manually". It is simpler than your solution.

2. This method saves SQL trafic and network speed on Huge Database.

If you have huge database, than you usually don't display everything at once. Beside, I guess, it is faster to send one query with 1000 rows, that 1000 queries with 1 row each.

3. View may not be fully compatible with some database engine.

Than you should use databases, that supports views.
