Thanks Anton.

Best regards and sorry for my English,

Your English is fine. What is important is getting the concept of the problem/solution across which you have done. My hang up many times is unlearning something I am used to. Before I used `setLocation(10, 60)` with 2 parameters.

As for an example that would not take much time if you had:

`SetRect(10, 60, 200, 400);`

with the 4 parameters that would have been clearer.

You pointed me in the right direction with the correct function, that is what is important.

Thanks

Neil
