I've prepared a little tutorial that perhaps could be useful to who begin with U++. The English I have used I'm aware is not the best (corrections are very appreciated). If somebody believes the tutorial is useful he can modify it and do with it what he wants without my permission.

PS: I hope this is the correct place where to post this tutorial, otherwise I've spoiled once more the Aris' time

PPS: Happy Easter!

That demonstrates a whole lot of useful things.
Nice work Luigi!

(I don't see many "English" problems.)
