Subject: Re: svn mirror lost (and being recreated)
Posted by frankdeprins on Sat, 20 Mar 2010 08:32:03 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Would it be difficult to make the subversion commit logs available for download on the downloads page so that, without access to the svn mirror, it would still be possible to see what exactly has changed in the latest nightly builds?
And another question; are the sources in the upp-x11-src-NNNN.tar.gz archive the same as those installed with the windows installer? I am not very fond of installers, you see.

have a nice day,

frank