What would be the easiest way to have an ArrayCtrl with cells whose each of them consists of an edit field and a helper button (button caption is like "..."). An example can be seen in VC++ 2005 by going to Tools->Options->VC++ Directories and look at the list on the right hand side.

Basically, the ArrayCtrl supports inline editing, but each cell at the time of being edited also shows a small button at the right edge.

Thanks
