hi mrjt

DockWindow.cpp:331

if (DockCont *c = TabifyGroup(group)) {
    if (c->IsDockAllowed(align)) DockContainer(align, *c, pos);
    else
        FloatContainer(*c);
}
```

should be

if (DockCont *c = TabifyGroup(group)) {
    DockContainer(align, *c, pos);
}

because, as far as i understand, most actions through code API should be available even if user has selected stuff to be unavailable (but if the code says so, it has precedence
i.e. you want to dock in code a window that has been disabled by user a docking ability, but the user pressed "default arrangement" or something, where you need to make tabbing docking (which has been disabled by user)

does that make sense?
