Hello Tomas

Quote:I can at least try to post somewhere the compiled OpenSSL libraries (libeay / ssleay) which do work for me so that you can try them out.

It could be great if you could put these libraries somewhere or you could tell us where we can find them or how we can build them the right way.

I have tried to do it but I get memory leaks compiling with different modes.

If they work with MSC and MinGW it would be great too.
