It should be possible. When building Chromium port of WebKit, it is just one #define in config.h to switch between JavaScriptCore and V8. But I haven't got that far yet.

I was compiled v8 in u++. I tested only v8 stand alone simple code. I think it is not a problem to create a v8 wrap plug-in.

Goo wrapper is v8-juice (http://code.google.com/p/v8-juice/) We can try. I'm interested in this project!
