Well this one's easy because it's already included

Just inherit from PopUpDockWindow instead of DockWindow. There is one bug with the 'Dock-as-tab' indicator that prevents correct resizing after the user aborts docking, but it's very minor and I don't have time to fix it now.

It also differs slightly from VS because it will do the resizing animation. This is partly because it's really, really hard to draw the blue semi-transparent square correctly in Upp. Maybe I'll have another go sometime.
