Hi

I agree with prof at least for one term: look&feel.

Upp is designed to be portable, but has a Windows look&feel. I know this will be improved in the future, but for now, I beleave this's one of the reasons to make Ultimate++ unpopular.

Another reason could be it's particular design (like the foundations of NTL). Even if it seems to be a pleasure for certain persons, it way be a non sense for others ?
