I hope you folks will not mind a quick update on my progress with UPP.

This is the latest screenshot.

I managed to get images on buttons(yeah no big deal you say), open multiple screens(still no big deal?).  Still learning these was a big exercise for me, but .....

Now, moving onto saving and retrieving settings for the screen.  I know about the serialize functions and will try to use them for this work.

I am happy to be learning UPP and feel confident I can give really smart programs from now.
