Sorry, but this is poorly defined...

IMO, you should trust more to Seek. I believe that if you reimplement your code with Seek and regular stream interface, I believe it will be as effective as using proposed methods. Well, maybe just almost as effective..

Well, MAYBE we could add something like:

```
const byte *Peek(int size)

which would return NULL if size is not available...

In any case, SkipRead and SkipWrite do not offer any advantage over Seek IMO.
