I'd need a way to convert from application help to html (well, I think it would be nice to have my site in sync with app help and I'm lazy )

So, a simple app that allow selection of a package, gathers all .tpp files, converts links and builds some (linked) html pages from them.

I mean, not the .tpp pages of the app, but ANY tpp of any package selected.

How can be done ?

Ops, sorry, the question was already answered here :
