Subject: Re: Problem with gcc compilers and -Wall
Posted by dolik.rce on Thu, 09 Sep 2010 08:22:44 GMT

mr_ped wrote on Thu, 09 September 2010 09:33Of course, but that means that the upp core should be very shy when compiled with -Wall to not disturb.
You are right about this Ped. Maybe if the Core didn't put out so many useless warning I would use the option sometimes too. I guess we should fill in those missing brackets and parenthesis...

Honza