

---

Subject: Re: Problem with gcc compilers and -Wall
Posted by mdelfede on Tue, 14 Sep 2010 09:04:53 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I agree too with -Wall.... It helps writing bugfree code many times.
I also had an error of function with missing return at end, giving weird errors and I could locate it just compiling with MSC which has the warning enabled.
I think that the -Wall with -Wno-parentheses would be the best choice... and I think it would not require too many "fixes" in Upp sources.

Max

---