- Click outside the thumb, there is a fn Jump(), call Jump( true ) to get the behaviour you are requesting.

- user defined formatting fn, this sounds like a great idea. So it would be a virtual fn I guess? Or is there a better way?

- I don't know much about .usc files, but I will try, can you point me to some information?

- Your idea to better use the space is a good one. I will look into this as well.
