Hi Graeme,

It produces pdf and/or html files. Just fill in the file name for pdf or folder to put the html in and check the respective options. But first you will have to change one line in source specifying the path to sources. It is in Main::DoGo(), in main.cpp and it should be something like String uppfolder = "C:\path\to\upp\"; //note: the ending '\' is required
One more note: The uppfolder must contain uppsrc and uppbox directories, i.e. it must be sources taken from SVN (regular releases don't have uppbox).

It is a bit inconvenient, but that will definitely get better with time
