Thank you very much. That's good to know! U++ is terrific.

As a way of learning U++, I was considering to write a Array/Grid control. Not to oversmart the existing ones, just to learn the U++ stuff and approach the problem in a different way. There are too much to learn before I can do that plus I don't really have a lot of time to invest into it right now.

But when I do become less busy, will you be able to mentor me on this topic?

Thank you,
Lance
