so now there is Python in bazaar..but only a starting point.
any help appreciated. i'd love to spare me some work and use boost/python which seems quite straight forward from user POV.

maybe this can be acomlished by making a plugin/boost reasons for Python over the others:

it's got a quite beautiful syntax and is more 'popular' (arguable) than the rest, but at least more extensible and multipurpose. supporting class/modules definition, which is not available in the others, at least not with little effort (Lua). but this doesnt mean the others shouldnt come to Upp.
