yea, i know it's AV business. upp is out of guilty here. but FileSel was the part causing the false positive.

i really ask my self if they will care about this, upp is too small yet.. but ill do.. will send them an exe example so they can analyze it..

EDIT: just phoned avira. this is really bad, they only fix it for compiled exes. not generally, so that upp in general could profit from it. i'll try it anyway..am in contact with them..
