Subject: How to make a non transparent image transparent
Posted by cbpporter on Tue, 24 May 2011 11:19:35 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I searched though the sources, but I couldn't find a method to convert an image loaded from a file without any transparency information into a transparent one. I want to replace one single color with completely transparent pixels. I am not using IML and am not able to use it.

The algorithm is simple and I can code it with ease, but would like to know if there is support for this out of the box?