Maybe just a basic GUI which does all the checking (I have not included that yet) and runs the ntile.exe placed in the FWTools\bin will work for now.

I just have the data for the nt.bat hard coded rather than GUI input but works OK. No progress bar so a user just sees the progress in the dos box.

Just clicking File->Run tiler in N_tile works for my setup.
This will require a user to place ntile.exe in the FWTools\bin rather than have a stand alone GUI with ntile built in.
