Note that all the GUIs has a label FWTools and an edit field that shows "OK".
This is intended to check that ntile.exe is in FWTools\bin or if the FWTools\bin is linked correctly if the GUI is a stand alone .exe with the ntile included.

The previous GUIs had a wide box to show any errors in the dos box that was on top of only the GUI, maybe putting a pause at the end would keep the whole box visible on error.
