Some of the previous .zip files probably have errors as posted here:

Without doing anything other than setting the path for FWTools bin, include and lib in the IDE and compiling then placing the ntile.exe in the FWTools bin it works OK.

No changes to the FWTools properties, just open FWTools and cd to where images are and type ntile.exe with the args and it works OK.

Sorry for the problems and thanks again for the help getting the conversion and linking so it can be compiled in U++.
