Subject: Strange (and dangerous) bug
Posted by unodgs on Sat, 27 May 2006 18:22:02 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

In my project I selected one of lay files and started to moving it up using ctrl+shit+up. After a few such operations theide froze and I had to kill it manually. Strange is this lay file was cut in the middle and its size grew to 136 MB! I'am able to repeat it..

Clue: It seems that size of file grew after each "move up" because theide constantly slowing down..

PS: Can anyone confirm that?