I used the option "Import runtime translation file". the .tr file came in my .t file. But now I want generate a new empty .t file. With my surprise it is always generated with the translation of the previous .tr file.

Is there a chance to remove the previous translation and get a cleaned .t file?

Luigi

I've discovered a repository.t file where finished my translation file. I'm tempted to delete it but I'm afraid to loose even other things that I could need.
