Hi again.
Sorry for such a late answer I was installing Linux and guess what, MySql example compiles/builds well on it, but that's not the reason why I installed of course

Talking about Windows I don't have one but I will soon setup a VM and try again building this example in almost the same conditions (the same windows and so on) I think the fact that it would be running on VM doesn't make any difference.
I will post any results soon

Cheers
